

Then
September 2007
122 lbs.

Now
September 22
108 lbs.

TAYLOR MOMSEN

At just 15, the Gossip Girl star is already under a lot of pressure. As her character, Jenny Humphrey, gets more screen time, racy plot lines have required less clothing (Taylor recently filmed a scene in a bra, says a source). And the stress has sent the 5'7½" actress plunging from a size two to a size zero, which was evident when she wore a strapless gown on the opening night of NYC's Metropolitan Opera that exposed her bony shoulders. "Taylor's been doing liquid fasting cleanses for a few weeks," reveals the source. "The problem is that she's done several back to back." The diet trick has made Taylor lose her healthy glow, says Busting Your Butt and Gut author Marty Tuley. "She's entirely too thin. Her shoulder bones are way too pronounced, and her clavicle bones are sticking out."

There's not an inch to pinch on these stick-thin actresses! Have they gone too far in their attempt to look picture perfect?

WASTING AWAY!